1. Short Curriculum vitae

I was born in Thessaloniki, Greece, October 20th, 1977. During 1991-1992, I lived in Ascot, Berkshire, UK, where I attended Grade 2 and graduated from the Royal Mixed Comprehensive Secondary Charters School, Ascot, Berkshire, UK (effort: A/B, attainment: B). I returned to Thessaloniki to graduate from the Municipal High School of Triandria with the grade 17.1/20. I continued my education in Wye College, University of London (currently known as Imperial) from 1996 to 1999, receiving a Bachelor of Science in Horticulture (BSc) – Second Class, Upper Division. During the academic year 1999-2000, I completed an MSc in Horticulture, in the Department of Landscape, University of Reading, with Distinction. In 2002, the two above degrees were accredited by the Greek Ministry of Education as equivalent to the degree of Agriculture of the various greek universities. My ongoing affiliation with Landscape Architecture started in 2003, when I attended the two year Joint Postgraduate Program of Studies in landscape Architecture, School of Architecture and School of Agriculture AUTH, graduating in 2005 with a grade 8.8/10. In 2012 I completed my PhD thesis in the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki. Since 2004, I have been working in the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, and from 2014 onwards as laboratory teaching staff. During 2005 and 2006 and 2006-2008 I worked as scientific staff of the Alexander Technological Institution of Thessaloniki and of the Technological Institute of Eastern Macedonia and Thrace, respectively. I have supervised 28 BSc dissertation theses on landscape architecture, School of Agriculture AUTH and several MSc dissertation theses. I participated in the organization of scientific Workshops and Symposiums and took part in landscape architecture competitions. During 2002-2015 I have participated in scientific programs of the Aristotle University Research Committee. I have published articles in I am a reviewer in Scientific Journals and my main scientific interests include landscape architecture, landscape ecology, community gardens and historic gardens. Finally, since Jan 2018 I am the Vice President Communications of the Panhellenic Association of Landscape Architects and since June 2019 the Landscape Architect of private academic Institute Anatolia College, Thessaloniki, Greece. Member of EUCALAND, Greek National Union of Landscape Industry, Hellenic Society for the Study and Protection of the Monk Seal Greece, International Association of Landscape Ecology (IALE) and Monumenta – For the Protection of Natural and Architectural heritage in Greece and Cyprus.
